"Dictatorship" of President Is Hit At GOP Banquet

Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., told a packed audience at the Republican Party's annual Lincoln Day Banquet that executive power concentrated in the hands of President Johnson has created a "dictatorship." Rep. Belcher told Magic Valley Republicans that "Concentration of power in the hands of one man" can be countered only by strengthening of the Republican Party. He maintained "unbridled power" concentrated in the hands of President Johnson is unparalleled in American history, and is, he said, comparable only to the regimes of Hitler and Mussolini.

Not Injured

Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., narrowly avoided injury at 5:15 p.m. Saturday night when he was a passenger slid off the snow-covered roadway coming to a halt in the right-hand lane of the one-half mile north of the Twin Falls Municipal Airport.

According to the driver, David Mead, Twin Falls, the automobile was traveling north on Airport Road when high winds caused it to slide on the ice-covered pavement, overlaid with snowdrifts. The car eased into the snow-filled borrow pit without injuring either Rep. Belcher or Mead.

He urged party unity, encompassing both wings of the party, as a necessity if the Johnson administration is to be blocked. The eight-term congressman told the partisan audience that "If we could pick up 30 new votes in the House this time, we could stop 90 per cent of Johnson's programs."

He chided factions within the party as harmful to the party. "You can have as many conservative societies as you want, but until it gets a man on the Republican ticket, it doesn't do any good."

Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, introduced Belcher to the Magic Valley audience. Attending the banquet were State Sen. Mary Brooks, R-Idaho, assistant national GOP chairman, John McMurray, Boise, state party chairman; Joe McCollum, district Republican party chairman; and Charles Lunt, Twin Falls County GOP chairman.

Rep. Hansen claimed the one-man, one-vote ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court is opposed to the constitutional system of checks and balances.

Hansen took to task the Democratic administration's educational programs. He noted that Idaho colleges have hired full-time employees whose sole function is to administer and seek out federal aid programs.

He said the federal programs have established a "whole new educational hierarchy to administer federal funds, which exercises control over school curriculum and text books."

He said the apparent divisions within the Republican Party are less important than those within the Democratic Party. He said the GOP BANQUET, Feb. 2, 1966.

REP. PAGE BELCHER, R-Okla., boards private aircraft with David Mead, Twin Falls, to see Magic Valley from the air. Belcher, ranking Republican on the House Agriculture Committee and head of the House Wheat Subcommittee, was shown new land developments along the Snake River west of Hagerman. He also saw the proposed site of the Los Angeles Plant calling for diversion of Idaho water from the river near Hagerman. (Times-News photo)

H. L. DERRICK, Twin Falls city manager, points out route of 30-inch water-supply pipeline, bringing water from Alpheus Creek near Blue Lakes Country Club. The conduit will cross the Snake River atop the Old Perrine Bridge, which has been condemned for foot traffic, but its piers and metal framework are strong enough to support the pipe. ## Abandoned Red Camp Yields Arms

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey switches to a salesman's role on Viet Nam Sunday. He is launching a tour of Asian nations as a sequel to his efforts here to spur social-economic development among the Vietnamese people.

The first stop is Bangkok, Thailand.

Thailand is an American ally and Humphrey said he will confer there with "good friends of the United States."

Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand — are others on the list.

Humphrey told newsmen there has been tremendous progress in the military phase of the Vietnamese war, but only a beginning has been made in the struggle against poverty, disease and illiteracy.

Following up a forecast of eventual victory on a both fronts, he gave this appraisal after his second day of helicopter-touring the area around Saigon.

Humphrey pinned Silver-Sun medals for gallantry on nine Army heroes at his first stop, the U.S. 1st Infantry Division headquarters northwest of this city.

He said the U.S. 1st Infantry Division is a heavy-duty helicopter that can lift six tons.

Three rocket launchers, two antiaircraft guns, two machine guns and 5,000 rounds of ammunition were among supplies the Viet Cong left behind in flight Friday from the helicopter-strike 20 miles southwest of Hong Son, 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said the troops killed 46 Viet Cong and captured eight in the Eagle's Claw operation. It marked the first sizable contact by Americans with the enemy since the seizure of the An Lao Valley west of Bong Son last week. The captives suffered only a handful of wounds.

U.S. patrols hunted elsewhere with little contact.

Several regiments of South Vietnamese troops pressed ahead in the Kien Binh area, 120 miles southwest of Saigon, in a sweep that a spokesman said wiped out three Viet Cong companies Friday.

New Water Source Eliminates Threat to Scenic Blue Lakes

Twin Falls has eliminated a possible threat to the famed Blue Lakes by arranging for a new source for its water supply, it was announced Friday by City Manager H. L. Derrick. The water source had been tentatively located at the head of Blue Lake's water level in the future, marring the area's beauty. The city entered into an agreement to relocate the site at the head of Alpheus Creek, about a half-mile nearer the city.

By arranging for the new site, an estimated $65,000 was saved on the cost of the longer pipeline. However, the new arrangement cost the city $65,000 to procure the new creek water rights and a route from the site to the Twin Falls city limits.

Agreements were drawn up with Burton Perrine Jr., W. M. Fisher, and the Blue Lakes Country Club, which include purchase of water rights from Alpheus Creek for 45 cubic feet of water per second; purchase of the dilapidated old Blue Lakes Bridge as a pipeline route across the Snake River; and purchase of easements for the pipeline across land owned by the three canyon property owners.

Derrick noted the city will use only about one-fourth of the available water in Alpheus Creek and had no objection to the new water source.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Communist base camp abandoned under the Eagle's Claw attack of U.S. air cavalrymen yielded a truckload of arm Saturday. They included 34 recoilless rifles, lethal bombs that serve as light artillery.

The haul "amounts to almost a Chinookful," said Col. Hal G. Moore, 2nd Brigade commander of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Alamo, a Chinook is a heavy-duty helicopter that can lift six tons.

Legislators Open Meet On Monday

—BOISE (AP)—Idaho legislators are streaming back into Boise to try again to do what federal court says they didn't do the first time—give Idahoans equal representation in the state legislature. Reapportionment is the major issue facing the legislators but Gov. Robert E. Smylie also listed 21 other subjects in his call for the 38th Legislature's second special session. The first—was last March—For Democrats, the special session activity begins Sunday night with a caucus at which they may decide whether to go on to the consideration of reapportionment first and apart from the other subjects.

House Minority Leader Darrell Manning, D-Boise, has said he found considerable Democratic sentiment for such separate consideration in three meetings with Democratic legislators at Boise making roads there impassable and traffic also had been stopped at the Capitol Port of Entry. The road from Boise into Idaho was closed Saturday.

Snow plow crews worked to clear the roads, but the wind was drifting the snow behind them.

Visibility was limited to zero near Malia due to the high winds. Fairfield had about two inches of new snow Saturday morning, but the sun was shining in the afternoon and clearing the snow.

Some snow also fell at Richfield Friday night.

Some roads near the Blue Lakes were reported drifting late Saturday afternoon, but none were reported blocked.

Senate President Pro Tem Jack Murphy, R-Lincoln, said he thinks it will take about a week for thinking on reapportionment to "jell" and said other matters should be taken up in the meantime.

Robert E. Smylie, Murphy and House Speaker Pete T. Cernusca, R-Boise, have predicted the reapportionment plan will be passed in 14 days if they aren't bogged down in a wrangle over apportionment.

The action is in response to a ruling by the U.S. District Court of State Senate Reapportionment adopted by the legislators in the first special session.

That plan made senators subject to election in districts of varying sizes. The court ruled it in effect kept one senator for each county and district and did not meet the "one man-one vote" standard set by the U.S. Supreme Court.

BOISE (AP) — Five new legislators will be on hand for the start of the Legislature's second special session Monday.

Three fill vacancies caused by resignations and two will serve only in an acting capacity.

New legislators will have a one-vote larger margin than they had in the regular 1965 session. The Senate margin will be 26 to 18 and the House margin 41 to 36.

New legislators are Sen. H.W. Hubert, Nez Perce, Republican, replacing Democrat Carl Moor; Rep. Jesse Hawley, Ada, Republican, replacing Carl Burt; and Rep. John S. Squires, Bannock, Republican, replacing Democrat V. L. Terrell. The three replaced all resigned.

The acting legislators will be Rep. John D. Sessions, Teton, replacing Dr. E. H. Hend, and Sen. William A. Chubb, Boundary, replacing Don P. V. Terrell. The three replaced all resigned.

BOISE (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's death was mourned by the parents of their daughter Luci's fiancé, for the first time Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nugent arrived at the White House on Sunday following an automobile accident that killed their son, for which the family is suing.

Bulls Average $561 At Filer Angus Sale

FILER — The 136 bulls sold during the Idaho Angus Bull Sale at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds Saturday averaged $561, states Clyde McAffee, Darlington, Idaho Angus Association president. Total receipts amounted to $76,365. McAffee said. Scott Beckley and Jerry Beckley, both Otello, Wash., paid a top price of $2,000 for S. V. Scottman's bull, the grand champion Angus sold the Idaho Angus Auxiliary said an Angus heifer, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thornton, Eden, to Todd Pett, American R-41 member, for $300.

The reserve champion, R. V. Ellensmeier, 429, owned by Howard A. Hanks, Rupert, was sold to Alfred A. Boehle, Nampa, for $1,000.

Official grades Friday were Kenyon Weeks, Sunn Valley Dr. T. Donald Bell; head of the Department of Animal Science, University of Idaho, and Russell G. Hillman, Salmon, extension agricultural agent, University of Idaho.

Auctioneers for the sale were S. Williams, Walla Walla, Wash., and Ken Trout, Middleton.

Results of the sale listed in See BULLS, Page 14, Col. 2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of Selective Service wants the armed forces to look for more men who have been rejected and put into the IV classification for moral and physical reasons.

LT. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey says he believes "there is gold" in the form of militarily acceptable manpower among the some two million men now classified IV — qualified for military service only in time of national emergency.

Hershey says he believes President Johnson's estimate of 100,000 inductions for the year beginning July 1 is "based on hope." But he didn't say how many he thinks will be inducted.

The military agreed recently to ease up on its mental standards so that generally now a high school graduate is acceptable for induction if he meets other requirements.

Local draft boards and the armed forces examining stations are reviewing the records of high school graduates previously ruled to be IV who might now be acceptable under the new standard.

Speaking on a WTOP television-radio program taped for broadcast Sunday noon, Hershey said:

"I'm certainly going to exert every pressure I can to not only look at the intellectually rejected but the morally and physically rejected."

Asked if the military is rejecting on moral grounds youths who deliberately establish court records by parking violations or other minor offenses, Hershey said he could not cite a specific case "but I do hear far more than I like about people running up criminal records to escape."

"This is one reason I have felt that the armed forces ought to take some of these minor criminals in, not to even encourage anybody to think of it," Hershey said.

Drifting Snow Blocks Roads Near Burley

High winds and drifting were reported in the Burley and Buhl areas Saturday, but sunny weather prevailed in other parts of the valley.

The wind caused drifting conditions at Albion making roads there impassable and traffic also had been stopped at the Capitol Port of Entry. The road from Boise into Idaho was closed Saturday.

Cold Wave Strikes U.S.

By The Associated Press

Winter weather returned to the nation's midsection Saturday when a cold wave, accompanied by gusty winds, swept southward through the northern plains.

A storm in the Gulf spread a vast shield of rain over much of the South while a thick band of early morning fog snarled transportation in the East.

Tornado breeding weather systems developed over portions of Mississippi and Alabama.

Sales Tax Deductions Are Listed

Idaho taxpayers who choose to itemize their deductions on their income tax returns instead of taking the 10 percent standard deduction would include sales tax, can use the following table prepared by the Internal Revenue Service for reporting their sales tax deductions:

IDAHO

IN STATE SALES TAX TABLE
If you itemize your deductions, you may use this table to determine the amount of sales tax to deduct. The table is based on the average amount of sales tax paid by Idaho residents during the six months since it became effective July 1, 1965. Sales tax on the purchase of new automobiles is not included in the table and they should be added to the table amount, if applicable.

The table is based on figures from the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics to show the average amount of sales tax paid by Idaho residents during the six months since it became effective July 1, 1965.

Use of the table is not mandatory—taxpayers may claim their deductions on actual sales tax payments if they have records to substantiate them. However, Internal Revenue officials explain that taxpayers have sizable other allowable deductions, they will probably find it less advantageous to consider their sales tax under the 10 percent standard deduction instead of itemizing it.

PLACID POOL at head of Alpheus Creek will be the new source of the water supply for Twin Falls. By taking water here rather than at the head of Blue Lakes, the city will eliminate any danger of drawing down the level of the famed lakes, and save construction costs of one-half mile of pipeline. (Times-News photo)

New Water Source to Save Lake

Creek, which will not affect the stream's beauty. He reported the pipeline intake will be located in the pool near the head of the creek, which will not draw water away from the waterfall cascading by the country club's clubhouse.
Water will be transported from the pool in a 30-inch steel pipeline about 200 yards from the clubhouse, in a straight line to the old bridge, where it will cross the river.
Although the roadway on the old Blue Lakes Bridge is unsafe for travel, the concrete piers for the bridge have been termed adequate to support the heavy pipeline. Water will flow down hill from its source in the north side of the river across the bridge and up the south canyon wall under the force of gravity. A pumping station will be located on the south side of the river to pump the water the remainder of the way up the canyon wall.

Emphasizes Need

Gov. Robert E. Smylie's 22-point program for the special session of Idaho's Legislature emphasizes the acute need for legislative reform. The Legislature was called only after the governor felt there were 22 matters of business so urgent they must be considered in a special session. These are not all of the possible legislative matters that have materialized in less than a year, by any means. In fact, the governor mentioned two other possibilities—urban renewal and the controversial 1965 contractors' licensing law—that were omitted from the special session agenda on purpose. Doubtless there are many possible legislative matters that could add many more items to the list.

This special session will have a chance to take a long step toward correcting the archaic system that is responsible for much of the business to be placed before the session. The day-of-session, is representative of the Legislature's primary reason for the meeting.

There's a growing suspicion that much of the politics that interferes with proper functioning of the Legislature can be traced directly to the principle of legislative representation by district. The people. Too many legislators of the past have been too preoccupied with problems peculiar to their own counties to pay proper attention to the over-all picture. Two other factors that have contributed to the present situation are the size of the Legislature and the fact that it meets in regular session only once every two years.

Interests of Idahoans aren't so diversified as to preclude each legislator from representing a large group of citizens. The size of the Legislature has been reduced sharply without imposing an undue burden on the individual member. A smaller Legislature probably would accomplish a great deal more than the present one. It would reduce the confusion and politics that seem to be inseparable from the present body. And the mere fact that 22 items are considered worthy of attention at the special session is a strong indication that the Legislature is not doing its job.

A much smaller Legislature convening more frequently would serve the state's needs much better. It's just not realistic to expect a legislature built on the needs of a few and buggy days to continue to fill the need for legislative action. Many problems develop too quickly. And how it seems that problems demand more and faster attention each year, although this seemingly crying need for attention may exact the faster pace of modern lives and living.

An indication of the eventual outcome may be found in what legislators do about the burning question of reapportionment. If they organize the state into districts, some of which undoubtedly will include entire counties, they are taking a first step toward legislative sanity. But the first step toward legislative sanity is the county unit remains especially paramount in minds of legislators, any significant change could be delayed if not stifled altogether. The session starting Monday will be a good one to see how many frequent meetings the Legislature will have, but the decrease in numbers could be important and an indication of what could be expected later.

If Idaho's Legislature were to become sufficiently small, it could be a prelude to raising legislators' pay to a point where being a legislator would be a full-time job instead of something to be pursued because of prestige and side benefits. Anytime a state with the sparse population of Idaho finds 22 items of pressing business developing in less than a year, it's a good indication the state needs full-time legislators.

In effect, legislators are directors of a corporation, namely the state of Idaho. Directors of any private business corporation would be expected to attend meetings that board meetings should occur no more frequently than every two years, with directors "on call" in case of any emergency. Yet that's the way the state continues to operate.

Gov. Smylie has predicted the 22 items of business he would like to be considered by legislators "make like statements" instead of "partisan wranglers." It's possible, but no one should forget these legislators weren't elected because of state-mandated quotas.

Neither should anyone forget that the appointment during the time of the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule is bound to eliminate some legislators, including a few who enjoy stature beyond money would be indicated by the number of citizens they represent. It's time to voting himself out of a job, a legislator can be forgiven if he fails to rise to state-mandated level. Even so, the handwriting is on the wall and no legislator is so nearsighted that he can't read it quite plainly.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Quietly, almost secretly, the United States is taking the lead in a new phase of Cold War strategy aimed at protecting the "new" Indonesia against both Communist and Chinese influences. The State Department's leading every encouragement to the U.S. International Monetary Fund and the new Asian Development Bank to set up a new credit program of economic aid, now that Communist influence in the Indonesian government is being wiped out. The objective is coldly pragmatic, namely to do something about those social conditions that permitted the Reds to get their foot in the door under the Sukarno dictatorship.

Today Sukarno is the prisoner of the military. This is no great bargain for the West, given the tenacity of the country's generals and colonels, but it is a big improvement over the situation of less than six months ago. Most of the Communist leaders have either been killed, captured or driven into exile. The Indonesian Communist Party (PKI), which grew to membership of three million within another 12 million Indonesians in front outposts, is a ideological outlaw.

SUCCESSOR BEING READIED — Happily, the military has thwarted Sukarno's attempts to rebuild his partnership with the Reds. Sukarno remains at least of state, but the military controls the content of his public speeches and ignores his "paranoiac orders." Sukarno is strictly a front man today; he would not be the man who led the fight for independence from the Dutch.

Power is now in the hands of a triumvirate composed of General Nasution, the Defense Minister, Sultan Hamengkum Budono and former Indonesian minister of defense. The last two men are the ones who are being groomed as Sukarno's civilian successors against the day when Sukarno's "disorderly" forces may be put down.

But for the Indonesian people, this is just window dressing, merely a helping of political balm. The country is still in a state of economic crisis. Rice is in short supply and industry is operating at a fraction of capacity. A drastic currency revaluation has done little to halt rampant inflation. Foreign exchange reserves are at a perilous low, exports are down, raw material imports have had to be cut. The economic situation, however, the new rulers still yank about crushing Malaysia and demand Britain's withdrawal from Singapore. But Indonesian forces haven't launched a significant attack against Malaysia since last October, and London has indicated it will take its own sweet time about departing from Singapore. Meanwhile, the Indonesian government is still enjoying a good deal of popularity. It is the only government in the area that is not being called each other's naughty names.

It is the only government in the area that is not being called each other's naughty names. It is the only government in the area that is not being called each other's naughty names.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

HONOLULU — The conference called by President Johnson was a large blue chip pull on the survival value of the U.S. in the Pacific. Henry Lodge is interesting. When he returned from his first tour of duty in the Pacific, Lodge could hardly be rated an optimist. In private he talked of "disaster," "collapse," and "seeds" among the Vietnamese and their almost total lack of any national coherence. He seemed almost to be saying that trying to pull them together was a hopeless task.

Yet back for a second try, and he is largely responsible for bringing retired Maj. Gen. Edward T. Lawrence back to the team. Lansdale emphasized the need to win over the countryside. It is there, in the heart of the country, that the peace and stability in Vietnam must be won. It is there, in the heart of the country, that the peace and stability in Vietnam must be won.

Reduction in Taxes Noted At Heyburn

HEYBURN — The residents of Heyburn will have another reduction in their village taxes this year. During the board meeting Wednesday evening, it was agreed to reduce the levy by two mills.

This is the second consecutive year board members have lowered the mill levy. The village will operate on 18 mills in the general fund where two years ago 22 mills were needed.

Residents will continue paying on the 15-mill levy which was voted for in 1959 for the establishing of a village sewer system.

The village budget will be set up during a special meeting in two weeks. A public hearing will be held during the March board meeting.

Leonard McBride, developer of the McBride interest, inquired about the village interest in purchasing the complex sewer system in his addition. He said the sewer lines were installed in the addition at his expense before the area was annexed into the village. The sewer lines connect to the village sewer.

He has charged a sewer hook-up fee to the home owners but noted that not all of the lots have been sold. He suggested the village pay him the system and take over the system. The matter was taken under advisement.

Discussing future park development, McBride said if trustees decided to purchase two of his lots for a park that he would donate two.

The newly-purchased gravel truck has arrived and the Hi-Ranger is scheduled to be here Friday. The board agreed to purchase a flat bed for the electric truck.

Larry Duff, Rupert attorney representing W. I. Duff, Robert Detmers and George Forscher, asked the board to close V Street from 18th street to the river.

The board hesitated in closing the entire street but agreed to look into the feasibility but closing a portion of it to the north edge of block 24. Forscher, who is preparing to build a home on block 24, asked the village to extend the sewer line to his location. Vico (Buel) Scott and Art McCall were instructed to survey the area and report to the board.

Ross Corless, board member reported on the land clearing project of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. along the street crossings.

Harold Hurst, board chairman, noted that recent newspaper articles have given the impression that "the board would not take action until there was a tragedy before action was taken at the four railroad crossings."

He explained the village had attempted to negotiate with railroad officials previously concerning the dangerous conditions and that the recent action was a climax to previous efforts.

The village has purchased 43 17-watt street lamps which will be installed at intersections in the residential area. Larger watt light fixtures will be installed along J Street, Heyburn's main street.

The official speed limit for trains passing through the village has been changed from 20 miles-per-hour to 25. R. M. Church, village attorney, has drawn up an ordinance to this effect which was signed by the board.

Committee chairman appointed by Hurst include Jack Strauss, electrician; R. Brown, irrigation; Ross Corless, streets and recreation; Earl Rose, sanitation and building. Hurst will be in charge of police.

WELLS FARGO STAGE scene in "The Music Man" will feature this unusual performer, Flying Ace, affectionately known as "Ace" among fellow cast members of the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley's newest production. "Ace" is not one of the hard-boiled props called for in the show, which is set during the turn-of-the-century era. Although "Ace" has only a very small, walk-on part, he is sure to be a crowd pleaser and scene stealer when the show is produced next month at the Filler High School Auditorium. (Times-News photo)

Acting Horse Is Unusual "Prop" for "Music Man"

You can lead a horse to the piano!

With a family that has such confidence in him, "Ace" can't help but be a big hit during "The Music Man," even though he has only a minor "walk-on" part. He is the means of power for the Wells-Fargo Stage whose arrival in River City creates much excitement among the younger set of the town.

So far, "Ace" hasn't even showed up for rehearsals, but will be expected to be on hand when the cast and crew for the newest Dilettante Group of Magic Valley's presentation moves to the Filler High School Auditorium for intensive rehearsals.

This live "prop" or actor, whose real name is Flying Ace, is owned and trained by Richard Kearsley, Buell "Ace," as he is affectionately called, by his fellow actors, will be seen on stage next month with other members of the cast of "The Music Man."

Kearsley has solved the problem of what to do with "Ace" when he's not on stage by generously offering to baby-sit with this budding actor during all rehearsals and performances. Some concern was noted by the Dilettante group that the horse might become frightened by the activity on stage and the loudness of the orchestra.

"Although Ace hasn't officially joined rehearsals yet, the Kearsleys have been seeing that he does his homework. In order to test his potential fear of loud music, they took him in the living room of their home and turned the stereo on full pitch.

When Mrs. Thomas Driscoll publicly agitated the group, expressed her admiration of Mrs. Kearsley for her bravery, Mrs. Kearsley replied very matter-of-factly, "Oh, he was all the way in, just his front half—and only as far as p.m. The show will run for seven days this year. In past years there were only six planned performances, but the last two years, demand for tickets was so great an extra performance was held.

Tickets will go on sale Feb. 21 at the Boy Scout Office at the old John A. Flower Co. building. Mrs. Driscoll urged everyone to make early reservations since last year's performance of "South Pacific" played to a "standing room only" crowd, with many people being turned away.

The special telephone number for reservations will be announced.

INVENTORY URGED
POCATELLO (AP)—A year-round inventory of Idaho potatoes has been urged to meet competition from other states.
 Walter Sparks, who made the suggestion, "was one of four speakers Friday at closing sessions of the second annual Idaho Potato Conference in Pocatello."

He is horticulturalist at the University of Idaho Experiment Station in Aberdeen.

A year-round inventory would stabilize the industry in Idaho, Sparks said, and prevent enormous lack of production and a summer fall of the crop.

TOUR HELD
IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Snow and wind failed to dampen the spirits of nearly 1,600 high school students and their teachers from four states who participated in the tenth annual National Science Youth Day Foundation tour of the National Reactor Testing Station Saturday.

Although schools from Rockland and Montpelier in Idaho and Bear Valley, Utah, and Kallispell, Mont., were unable to make the trip; delegations from as far away as Burns, Ore., Hamilton, Mont., and Bountiful, Utah, showed up.

SEARCH DELAYED
IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Police Chief Robert Pollock says it might be more than a month before the bodies of two young girls presumed drowned in the Snake River last Sunday are recovered.

Pollock said Friday checks from the river bank are continuing but late chunks of ice in the river make a search by boat impractical.

The girls were Gwen Jeanine, 6, and Julie Ann Forsyth, 7, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Forsyth of Idaho Falls.

BRACKEN TALKS
BOISE (AP)—Salt Lake City Mayor J. Bracken Lee Saturday termed "futile" Gov. Robert E. Smylie's efforts against exiles in the Republican Party.

"You don't drive people away from you," Lee said at a news conference. "You try to get them to support you. I wouldn't mind going before Communists and trying to convert them."

Lee was here to address a luncheon of the Ada County Republican Women.

PLAN HIT
BOISE (AP)—A Legislative Council plan to reorganize the state government's executive branch has been rejected by two state officials.

State Auditor Joe R. Williams and State Treasurer Marjorie Moon said Friday the plan would lead to higher government controlled by one man.

Miss Moon and Williams sent separate replies to the council in response to its request for comments from state officials.

Williams said he agreed on the need for a state car pool system, a central accounting system and elimination of special funds.

But he said he opposed the general plan because he does not believe "in a one man controlled government."

INCIDENT PROBED
IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Police investigated Saturday an accusation by a 15-year-old high school sophomore that a city police officer struck him in the back with a nightstick.

A hospital spokesman said Larry Layton, son of John Layton, was in "good condition" and that X-rays were taken to determine the nature of the injuries.

Police Lt. Ralph Hutchens said a check was being made to determine what officers were working in the immediate area of the incident.

OUTLOOK GOOD
BOISE (AP)—The overall outlook for irrigation from Pacific Northwest Bureau of Reclamation projects next season is good, Regional Director Harold T. Nelson said Saturday.

"Although runoff prospects are generally less than normal in most areas at this time," Nelson said, "the total storage in the reservoirs is above normal."

He said the high storage is due to unusually large carry-over at the end of the irrigation season last year, marked by high runoff that flooded some areas and threatened others.

BIDS ASKED
BOISE (AP)—Idaho's Public Works Department called for bids Friday to be opened Monday for Idaho State University's $1.6 million College of Business Administration Building in Pocatello.

WARNING GIVEN
BOISE (AP)—The Associated Travelers of Idaho warned travelers Saturday not to relax their vigil due to the general property reduction this year — because government spending continues to rise.

Max Voss, the association's executive manager, said that although tax reductions under the 1965 sales and use tax law dropped property taxes, local government spending is expected to increase nearly $4 million this year.

RANGE IS GOOD
BOISE (AP)—Range feed remained relatively scarce in southwestern and about one-third of southeastern Idaho this month and snow cover was generally moderate in the east and north, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Saturday.

SERVICE OKAYED
BOISE (AP)—The Troy Telephone Co. has been authorized by the State Public Utilities Commission to provide service to a new ski area near Moscow in Latah County.

The telephone company made an extension of its service of convenience and necessity to serve the area, according to the PUC, and no protests in the request were received.

VEHICLES COLLIDE
PRIEST RIVER (AP)—Seven children and a bus driver were injured Friday when a First District school bus and lumber truck and trailer collided four miles east of here, Idaho State Police said.

The bus driver was identified as Rudolph A. Hoop, Priest River. None of the injuries was believed serious, officers said.

SUITS FILED
BOISE (AP)—Three Boise residents filed suit in Third District Court Friday in efforts to bring urban renewal to a vote in the city.

Judge Merlin S. Young set Feb. 18 for a hearing on the suit.

The residents who filed the action were Mrs. Roma K. Anderson, Mrs. Mildred Blackman, and Clair B. Johnson.

REPORT GIVEN
BOISE (AP)—Reports on mental retardation problems were heard today at the first 1965 meeting of the Idaho Council of Mental Retardation's advisory committee.

Kenneth B. Bannister, committee chairman, asked the committee to plan "blueprints for action" to make the bulk of Idaho's mentally retarded productive citizens and self-respecting persons.

liability arising from first-aid administration at the scene of an accident as long as they administer it to the best of their ability.

Another thing Reynolds advised was, "The public should be informed that when they call the fire department for a resuscitator, it is necessary to start mouth-to-mouth resuscitation immediately and continue until the resuscitator arrives. Otherwise, the chances of dying are very great."

Reynolds' manager-of-Reynolds Funeral Chapel, generously volunteered his time for this course.

He also suggested that any person or group of persons wishing information regarding first aid procedures or literature should call the Red Cross office at 733-6461.

Snow Fun, Steak Supper Highlight Winter Social

By NORMA HERZINGER

Fun in the snow, including a midnight ride over ghostly mounds, a steak fry, visiting neighbors in the vicinity, meeting new friends during social gatherings and racing on snowbuggies, can only add up to an exceptional, excitement-filled weekend.

This chain of events began when I was invited, along with several other guests, to spend a weekend in the Ketchum area. Plans included traveling over Galena Summit to visit at Smiley Creek Lodge, to Swiss Villa for a steak supper and social gathering and to spend the night.

Although I am a native of Idaho, I had never been over Galena Summit, so the anticipation of such a weekend was terrific.

Activities began when we accompanied our hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Schroeder, Filer, when they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levard Hansen, Ketchum. Mrs. Hansen was a perfect hostess and served hot drinks to her shivering guests. She made us feel right at home and explained some of the social activities Ketchum has to offer.

My first drive over Galena Summit was something to remember. The snow was piled high on both sides of the highway and even with the darkness of night closing in, the scenery was beautiful.

When we arrived at Smiley Creek Lodge, we found guests sitting in front of a beautiful rock fireplace, enjoying the peaceful atmosphere and discussing the snowbug races held in Ketchum that day.

Since many of the cabins are inaccessible by foot or car during the winter months, all guests have snow machines to get from place to place, as well as for family fun and recreation.

To visit a neighbor in a cabin several miles away is no problem to these snowbug enthusiasts—they hop on their snow machines and away they go.

While at Smiley Creek Lodge we visited Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bevans and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bevans, all Boise; Dr. and Mrs. George Brown, Twin Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Red) Fillmore, Twin Falls; Dr. H. C. Lake, Twin Falls, and their guests from throughout Magic Valley.

While driving to Swiss Villa, Mrs. Schroeder was talking about the various Magic Valley families that

RELAXING AFTER A DAY'S activities at their cabin at Swiss Villa are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson, Twin Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson hosted a coffee hour for friends and guests who were spending the weekend in that area. The Anderson cabin is decorated in provincial styling from miscellaneous items of furniture they bought here and there and refinished to their liking. (Times-News photo)

FROM THE EXPRESSION on the face of Mrs. H. (Duke) Wellington, the joke must have been on her, as her husband glances away to finish his story. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington, Boise, were guests at the social hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder, Filer. Several guests from throughout Magic Valley attended the get-togethers which featured fun in the snow and socials. (Times-News photo)

CAUGHT UNAWARE of the Times-News camera are Ray Brandt, Boise, former Buhl resident; and ValDean Schroeder, Filer, as they wait for weekend activities to get under way. (Times-News photo)

WARMING THEIR HANDS over the large pot-bellied stove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson are Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Schroeder, Filer, following rides on their snow machines. Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder hosted a group of people from the Magic Valley and Boise areas at a social at their cabin. Following a steak supper, snow machines were provided for each guest and the entire party was off to visit the neighbors. (Times-News photo)

A GOOD SPORT, Mrs. Wanda Lutz, Filer, shows a big smile as she is being teased by one of the guests at a recent social. The only portion of the teasing shown is the boot-clad foot resting on top of hers. Mrs. Lutz' brother-in-law, Myrl Schroeder, right, watches mischievously so he can continue the taunting if the opportunity presents itself. (Times-News photo)

the living room. It was assembled from rocks collected for their unusual shapes and colorings. At one end of the fireplace, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols own and operate a motel at Swiss Villa. Moss is still growing, adding a mysterious effect to the finish. (Times-News photo)

RELATING EXPERIENCES he has had while driving snow machines is H. (Duke) Wellington, Boise, as his captivated audience, Jeff Schroeder and ValDean Schroeder, Filer, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Schroeder, listen intently. Jeff and Val-

Dean both have snow machines and are very capable drivers. When in snow country these two youngsters spend most of their waking hours "enjoying" as most of the snowbug enthusiasts call it. (Times-News photo)

Winter Fun Highlighted With Social

go to their cabins for weekends. When she said "cabin," I took her literally and had conjured up my idea of a cabin. What a surprise I had when we arrived at a beautiful summer home, complete with every possible convenience.

A fire was burning brightly in the Franklin fireplace and the wonderful aroma of burning pine filled the air. Other guests at the Schroeder cabin include Mr. and Mrs. H. (Duke) Wellington, Boise; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Nichols, former California residents; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandt, Boise; former Buhl residents; Mrs. Wanda Lutz, Filer, and Mr. and Mrs. Karen Morse, both Twin Falls.

The hospitality bestowed upon us was unsurpassed. The supper served was fit for a king, complete with steaks cooked just to our liking—vegetables, salad, bread and coffee. We could hardly wait to complete supper as Brandt and Wellington were going to take us for a drive on the snow-covered slopes. Brandt explained to me that instead of calling it snow-bugging as I was, they called it "snow-bike." The word "bike" explained, is an old English word meaning a kind of sleigh with a "bike-like body." The word was adopted by the snowbug enthusiasts and whenever pungen is mentioned, everyone is ready to go.

So-pungen we did. The night was crisp and still and the only sounds were those of the muffled skis on the snow. The snow included going to the top of a large hill at the back of Swas River on a small bridge just wide enough for the machine. It was strange to see water run in the middle of all that snow. We arrived at the top of the hill and could look down at the gently lighted valley several miles away. It was a sight well worth remembering.

Later, after getting the feel of the machine, snowbugs were provided for each guest and we were off to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson and family, Twin Falls, at their cabin about one-half mile away.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson welcomed us and immediately prepared coffee for all, in a coffee pot large enough to serve from the size of the coffee server, one could tell they were used to large numbers of guests. Anderson was on a tour of her cabin, which was nothing less than beautiful. The old-fashioned pole-belled stove added just the right touch to the provincial styling of the home. The entire decor of the cabin was warm and welcoming, belying the cold of the outdoors.

On the way back to the Schroeder cabin, we went by uniquely designed cabins owned by Dr. and Mrs. Elwood Rees, senior; Faller; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shetter, Filer; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ude, Twin Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Larry O'Hara. These cabins not only provide the means of family fun and diversion, but supply the outlet for relaxation and sociability not usually found in everyday activities.

One of our last stops included a tour through the exquisitely designed home of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols. One of the outstanding features of their home is an elaborately constructed fireplace in the living room. Mrs. Nichols explained the unique styling of the fireplace. It was assembled from rocks collected for their unusual shapes and colorings. At one end of the fireplace you could see where the moss is still growing—adding a mysterious effect to the finish.

We awoke the next morning to the call for breakfast. One could tell, from the breakfast served, that our hosts were not calorie counters. Set before us were bacon, eggs, fried potatoes, hot biscuits, fruit, juice, jams and jellies, apple bread and coffee. The mountain atmosphere and festive gatherings.

Linda Wright, Fiscus Reveal Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wright, Murtagh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda May, to Frank Fiscus, Twin Falls.

—Mrs. Wright is a 1961 graduate of Murtagh High School and is employed at the Twin Falls Credit Bureau. Fiscus is employed at Roger Brothers Seed Co.

An April 18 wedding is planned.

Father-Son Banquet Held By Methodists

WENDELL — Fathers and sons attended the annual banquet sponsored by the Methodist Church at the church dining room. The banquet was catered by the Together Group, with the dessert being furnished by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Elmer Hanson was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Leslie Wallace, Rev. Edward V. Hargreaves welcomed the group and gave the "Foster Sons" prayer.

Guitar and vocal selections were presented by Charles Correll and his sister, Charlene, Jerome.

Those receiving special prizes were J. H. Freeman Sr., Jerome, prize for the oldest father and also the one that traveled the longest distance; Richard Eaton, the father with the most sons; Walter Kelley, for the tallest head, and Dave Goble, the smallest son present.

Preparations then began to close the cabin after the weekend and say good-bye to our new friends. The snow machines were loaded onto pickup trucks and we were ready for our journey back over Galena Summit. The bright early morning sunlight on the snow-covered mountains made a very picturesque sight, and everyone commented on the beauty nature provides.

At too soon the weekend activities were coming to an end. When we arrived in Kelchum we attended the final events of the snow machine race and were on our way home.

We had been introduced to an entirely new type of family entertainment and social functions. These summertime-only camping families have discovered how snow traveling magically transforms winter into a family funtime. With the aid of their snow machines, they have found a "mechanical dog team" to pull them through a sunlit winter wonderland.

The adventure of the snowy weekend socials and the new friends acquired during the coffee hours and dinner parties have opened a brand new family togetherness idea that cannot be easily surpassed. More and more families are heading winter weekend parties at their mountain cabins to introduce their relatives and friends to a snowy white world of fun, relaxation and festive gatherings.

Eight Churches Represented at Board Meeting

The board of managers of the United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Fred Moore. Eight churches were represented.

The worship service was given by Mrs. W. C. Holman. Plans were completed for the state convention of UCW scheduled on Monday through Wednesday, Mrs. E. B. Pate, general chairman of the convention, gave her report on the plans made locally. During the convention the Music Club Chorus will sing and Mrs. Max Guyer will present solos.

Mrs. Fred Moore is the official pianist. There will be two coffee hours sponsored by the United Church Women, Valley Christian Church will decorate tables for the potluck dinner Monday evening at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

First Christian Church is in charge of cleanup. Each woman attending will bring a covered dish, salad or dessert and her own table service. Housing and banquet reservations were discussed and registration help was assigned. The banquet is Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Moore is hostess.

Mrs. Ois Hall is in charge of ushers and welcome-at-the-convention sessions and each church representative will handle publicity within her own church. Mrs. U. N. Terry will handle newspaper and other publicity.

It is suggested that all women who can be asked to wear red dresses, in line with the Valentine season, at the Monday evening potluck.

Mrs. James Clipp, South Dakota, national recording secretary of the UCW, and Mrs. D. Willis, Ames, Iowa, member of the national executive committee, will attend the meetings and are in charge of the training sessions for officers.

The sessions began at 11 a.m. Monday, with a board of managers' meeting, followed by lunch for the board at noon at the YWCA. Registration will start at 1 p.m. and there will be a literature display. The formal opening of the UCW meeting is set for 3 p.m. and is open to all state, local officers, department chairmen and all other interested persons.

A potluck dinner at Methodist Fellowship Hall, courtesy of the Twin Falls UCW, is set for 6 p.m., followed by the evening session, with one of the national team as speaker.

At 8:30 and 10:15 a.m. Tuesday there will be a training session. Lunch will be served at the YWCA at noon and training sessions and separate clinics will continue until 3:15 p.m. Reports from clinics and general discussion will last until 5 p.m.

Dinner will be served at the Presbyterian Church and the evening session will be held there at 7:30 p.m. A panel with the subject, "Involvement in the World," will discuss the Job

WEEK'S RECIPE WINNER
MRS. EDITH WELLS
Route 1, Oakley

Old Fashioned Jelly Roll (Large Recipe)
3 1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 eggs, at room temperature
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup tart red jelly
Sift flour, once and measure. Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in a bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually, until mixture becomes thick and light colored. Gradually fold in flour, then the vanilla.

Turn into a 15 by 10-inch pan which has been lined with brown paper, then greased. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, for 11 minutes. Turn the cake out on a cloth or towel dusted with powdered sugar. Quickly remove paper and cut off crisp edges of cake. Roll cake, rolling cloth up in cake.

Let cool for about 10 minutes. Unroll and spread cake with jelly and roll again. Serve cut into one-inch crosswise slices.

Other fillings may be used for the roll. For a cream jam roll, fold three-fourths of a cup fruit jam into one-half cup whipping cream, whipped, then sweetened and then sprinkle with two and one-half cups thinly sliced strawberries. Cake should be cold before spreading for a custard cream roll. Lemon or orange fillings may be used instead of jelly.

(The Times-News will pay to this week for the best recipe submitted to the Magic Valley Favorites. It will be a favorite recipe. Just mail it to the Editor, Times-News, Room 200, 200 N. Main, Twin Falls, Idaho. The recipe becomes the property of the paper and cannot be returned.)

Corps; migrants, UNICEF and the extremists.

There will be an 8:30 a.m. Wednesday session with national leaders in charge. At 9 a.m., a summary and evaluation period is scheduled in addition to installation and commitment service. The meeting will close at noon.

A Cleanser That Beautifies

It is said that every time you wash your face you turn a wrinkle, but now you can smooth and beautify the skin as you cleanse. No more taut dry skin when you use this cleansing milk that removes every trace of make-up with a dissolving action that leaves the complexion smoother, clearer and free from wrinkle dryness. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "Eviniger" cleansing milk that gives the complexion a look of youthful beauty.

Carey Man, O. McCarter, Dies at 87

CAREY—Funeral services for Ota J. McCarter, 87, will be conducted at 1 p.m. Monday in the Carey LDS Church by Bishop Garth C. Hendrickson, officiating.

Mr. McCarter was born Feb. 4, 1878, at Grapeland, W. Va., and married Mary Jane Esterhold on Oct. 19, 1910. She died Jan. 12, 1962.

He came to the Carey Valley when he was 15 and lived there until about a year ago when he entered the Shoshone rest home. He was a rancher in the area and was one of the men in restoring the area of the Little Wood River Dam and was the original chairman of the board of the Carey Valley Reservoir Co., and was a member of the board of Fish Creek Reservoir.

He was a member of the Carey School Board from 1932 to 1939. Surviving are two stepsons, Steven Esterhold, Shingle Springs, Calif., and Merwin (Bud) Esterhold, Ketchikan, Alaska. Also, three daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Kettler, San Jose, Calif.; two daughters, Estel McCarter, Richfield, and William McCarter, Hagerman; one sister, Mrs. Kate Weaver, Florida; 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Final rites will be held at Carey Cemetery, Grapeland, W. Va., at 10 a.m. Monday.

Principals Are Rehired For Filer

FILER—Principals of the Filer-School District 41 have been rehired for the 1966-67 term, states Thomas Turner, superintendent. They are Arthur Chabrun, Junior-Senior High School; Mrs. Nell Sparks, Filer Elementary; Mrs. Lois Park, Victory School; and Howard Kinsfater, Hollister School.

The board of trustees and principals will hold a special meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the board room. A total of $190,071 in state and county allotment and approximately $1,000 in federal matching funds on Title III (science, mathematics and foreign language material ordered by the school system) are expected to be received by District 41. Turner said $75,000 will be invested in 91-day government bonds.

The directors have voted to pay the balance on the school property which has been purchased for erection of the new grade school, said the superintendent. May 12 has been set as the Baccalaureate date for this year's graduation class. Turner noted, and graduation day will be May 20.

Black Muslims Losing Force Since Leader's Death

NEW YORK (AP)—One year ago this month Malcolm X was shot to death on the steps of New York City's City Hall. Since that Sunday afternoon, less and less has been heard from militant Negro Muslims groups.

In most areas the nationalists seem to have lost their momentum. Malcolm X's own organization is dying on the vine. But there are signs that other groups may be biding their time.

"We're less interested in talking and more in doing some action," said James Lawson, Harlem-based president of the United African Nationalists, in a recent interview. He didn't say what kind of action.

Three men said by the state to be members of the Black Muslims are on trial charged with murdering Malcolm X last Feb. 21. The killing followed his breakthrough from the Muslims to the more moderate organization of the Little Wood River Dam.

The trial has attracted little attention—even when two prosecution witnesses insisted on a Muslim courtroom cleared, saying they feared Black Muslim vengeance.

The Black Muslims receive occasional reflected publicity from their most famous member, heavyweight boxing champion, Muhammad Ali.

Contest Is Sponsored by Music Clubs

The National Federation of Music Clubs, in conjunction with National Music Week, is offering $25 prizes for the best essays on the subject "The Importance of Music in Our Lives."

The contest is open to any student from the 9th through the 12th grades. The essay must be original and have 500 words or less. Students may submit more than one entry.

Entries must be submitted on an entry form and mailed to the NFMC, Headquarters Suite 1215, 600 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60605. Entry cannot be postmarked later than March 15, 1966.

Fourteen of these $25 awards will be given and winners will be announced during National Music Week, May 1-8, 1966.

For further details contact Mrs. Eli Weston, 1035 Warm Springs Ave., Boise.

Land Bank Unit's Officers Named

Officers of Federal Land Bank Association of Twin Falls for the coming year were announced Friday.

They are Elmer Dossett, president; Clarence Hofffield, vice-president; W. K. Nutting, treasurer; and Mrs. Flame Klundt, assistant manager.

George H. Atkins, Buhl, was elected to the board of directors for a three-year term. He succeeds Walter Reese, Castelford.

Other members of the board are Elmer Dossett, Twin Falls; Clarence Hofffield, Hansen; Melvin Jagels, Clifton; and William Whittington, Elmore.

TOLL REPORTED CHICAGO (AP)—A record toll of 49,000 traffic deaths in the United States last year was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The report, based on data from 49 states, shows a 10 percent increase over the 44,000 deaths reported in 1964.

Malcolm's half-sister, Ella Collins of Boston, who took over the group, says there has been no recruiting of new members and conceded that membership has fallen.

Active membership under Malcolm X was believed to be less than 100. A New York police official estimates membership now at fewer than 50.

The Black Muslims advocate complete separation of the races. Malcolm X advanced the idea that Negroes should resist integration while cultivating their own culture, saying "There can be no white-black unity until there is first some black unity."

A police official said there is less visible Black Muslim activity in New York—"in a sense hard-core membership of all black nationalist movements in Chicago, the police subversive unit said—no concerted Black Muslim recruiting campaign had been noted lately.

The order's population, "Hammond Speaks," has toned down its antiwhite writings. A spokesman for the Philadelphia Commission on Human Relations estimated the total year, and that the Black Muslims were not creating any problems for the police. Police of Boston reported that Black Muslims had been keeping to themselves in recent months and that membership appeared to be either static or dwindling.

Realtor Is Speaker at Jerome Meet

JEROME — Marion Voorhees, Boise, executive vice president of the Idaho State Board of Realtors, was guest speaker at the North Side Board of Realtors meeting held at Woods Cafe Wednesday night.

He explained regulations of sales tax collections as it concerns real estate, discussed membership requirements as stated by the by-laws and outlined the insurance program for members.

In speaking of the Idaho real estate salesmen and brokers examinations, Voorhees said grades of 75 must be made in the examinations, and he also pointed out that requirements in the Idaho examinations are among the highest in the nation. In spite of this there are, 800 realtors in Idaho, the highest number by percentage of licenses in any state in the union.

In stressing the importance of the realtors' boards he pointed to upgrading and high performance of people working in this manner.

President Edgar Dryden, Jerome, announced he will attend a president-secretary council meeting to be held in Boise Friday.

Directors will act on applications for new memberships and then present them to the group. Board members are Phil Hirtel, Wendell, Harrell Thorne, Shoshone, and Harold Jenkins, Jerome.

Applications for membership were approved for W. Glen Jackson, a broker, with Jerome Realty; Clifford Peterson, salesman, with Helas Investment, Jerome, and Ed Stockton, salesman with L and N Realty, Jerome.

The March 7 meeting will be held at Shoshone with Harrell Thorne and D. S. Hiett in charge of arrangements.

Bruins Use Delay Game, Free Throws for 73-67 Win; Williams Hits 31

Ned Williams and free throws carried the Twin Falls Bruins to a cliff-hanging 73-67 double overtime victory over the Capital Eagles Saturday night despite a great display by sophomore John Grant and a tenacious, speedy Eagle defense. The victory averaged an earlier loss at Capital and assured Twin Falls of at least a split with every SIC team except Caldwell. Although never

Shoshone Collects Little 6 Loop Title

SHOSHONE—Shoshone's Indians, the biggest enemy that ever hit Magic Valley's basketball circuit, dropped Wood River 36-27 Saturday night and collected the Little Six Conference championship with a 9-0 record. The Indians, who won only two non-conference games, continued their great boost of being tough when the chips were down. Smiled Coach Bud Watkins, with the trophy firmly in hand, "We go on the floor to win. We lost all but two non-conference games. Maybe there's no justice, but we hope to keep the same touch in the tournament in two weeks."

The Indians had trouble with the Wolverines as neither team could hit. Wood River shot 15 first quarter and the teams were tied at 13-13 at halftime. Shoshone pulled out top slightly in the third quarter 26-23. Still Wood River hung on and with six minutes to go Shoshone, with a five-point lead, went into a lay-up-only offense that paid off in the final margin.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Minico County High School is following the new trend. One head coach for one sport. This policy, which must be considered new since Bill Matthews ran everything for several years, is part of the reason that Coach Ed Halverson resigned from football position last week after two years. He will continue as wrestling coach.

The other reason Halverson's resignation is that Minico didn't beat Burley although there were some personal conflicts that affected Halverson only in a superficial manner.

Principal Leigh Ingersoll reports that he and Coach Halverson discussed the situation before the board meeting Monday.

Coach Halverson said it had been a year since he had been in the position. He had been in the position for a year and a half. He had been in the position for a year and a half.

Each year there are some boys that don't believe a coach or school when it establishes the price of athletics. It is a scholastic sports and abstemious from tobacco and alcohol, obeying a curfew, maintaining grades and several other things. Kimberly had run into such a situation this year and there have been one in Wood River. There probably are other individual cases we haven't heard about.

We don't want to direct a finger at these two schools, using them only as examples. Over the years there have been several dozen caught, several hundred more that got away with it. But in each case where the deed was found out, there is a predictable occurrence. A certain faction, which we assume puts winners ahead of everything, will line up behind the boys and try to pressure the school or coach into reinstating the offender. This we assume is what they refer to as acceptance after the fact.

The "no-estate" exception in the position of condoning law breaking. Seldom do extensive circumstances alter the fact that the law was broken. We must report on the Kimberly incident that the boys were suspended from the team for fighting as we carried in the weekly basketball tournament. School officials inform us that although there was a minor scuffle that involved one boy, the disciplinary action was for breaking training rules.

Washington State Wins Rifle Shoot

POCATELLO (AP) — Washington State University's varsity rifle team took first place in the Bengal Trophy competition Saturday.

The WSU team is the second squad from that school to win the traveling trophy in the past five years.

Washington State placed 1,403 out of a possible 1,500 total in the top gun, Eastern Washington State College's varsity rifle team was second with 1,355, Montana State ROTC third at 1,329 and Idaho State University's ROTC fourth with 1,385 points.

Devils Top Pirates, Cop Northside Title

HAGERMAN—A third quarter flurry and a late free throw parade hoisted the undefeated Dietrich Devils past Hagerman's Pirates 59-46 Friday night and into the Northside Conference championship. Hagerman was expected to be Dietrich's last major hurdle on the championship trail.

Devils pumped through 17. That opened up a 16-point margin and it took Hagerman five minutes to reduce it to four. Then came the fourth quarter and the pressing defense of Dietrich pushed comfortably ahead in the final three minutes.

Hagerman was as tough as expected in the first half, a cold third quarter blowing it out of the win. Still the stubborn Pirates battled back to within four points before Dietrich went into a delay game and picked-up eight free throws.

Devils took the best of the first quarter and pumped into an 18-12 lead. Dietrich inched back in the second quarter and trailed 22-20 at intermission.

In the third Hagerman managed only four points while the Devils pumped through 17. That opened up a 16-point margin and it took Hagerman five minutes to reduce it to four. Then came the fourth quarter and the pressing defense of Dietrich pushed comfortably ahead in the final three minutes.

When Gonzaga came back, good shooting and control of the half ended kept the game out of reach of the Vandals. Idaho rallied briefly mid-way through the second half and cut the Gonzaga lead to six points.

Spartans Use 33 Free Throws to Square Series

BURLEY—Minico's Spartans reached out of a mislead 3-13 quarter and made it a success. Friday night by dropping the Burley Bobcats 65-60 and gaining a split in the season series between these arch rivals. The Spartans did it at the free throw line, hitting 33 charity points and 11 of those came from senior guard Rich Nielsen. Those 11 gave a Nielsen 113 for the season and the fourth district record. The previous mark was 108, set by Gary Simmons, Twin Falls, in 1954-55. He has two more games to improve on it.

"SAME DEALER — SAME LOCATION FOR OVER 37 YEARS!"

FIVE PEOPLE who have played important parts in the school training and participation of Maria Gutierrez, Argentina exchange student through the American Field Service, stand with her at the Twin Falls High School Bruin emblem located in the entrance hall of the local school. The visitor has participated in many diversified school activities and will be graduated with the senior class in May. Pictured, from the left, are Paul Fink, student body president; Rip Wilson, senior class president; Miss Gutierrez; Susan Breckenridge, host sister; Irene Campbell, Girls' League president, and George Staudacher, school principal. The visitor from Argentina takes a full course of studies in addition to participating in the school activities. (Times-News photo)

Exchange Student From Argentina Finds Other America Quite Like Home

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor

You are an American. I am an American. Maria Gutierrez is an American. There is only one basic difference—You and I are North Americans, Maria is a South American.

So, after all is said and done, Maria Gutierrez really didn't come to America. She lived in Argentina before she came here. She actually came to the United States and in Idaho.

This inborn idea that we are from America, and others are from someplace else, seems to be a basic one for residents of the United States but Maria just simply overlooked it in her desire to learn, visit and appreciate.

You see, Maria is a 17-year-old girl whose home is in far away Rafaela Santa Fe, Argentina. She is a foreign exchange student, sponsored by the student body of the Twin Falls High School through sources of the American Field Service. She will be graduated with the class of 1960 at the local school and she will have formed ties which will stay with her—and those she has met—for the rest of her life.

Her host mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Breckenridge, and her host sister, Susan Breckenridge, treat her like one of the family. That is the idea behind this entire concept of student life in another language, backed by the American Field Service plan. Given a chance, all youngsters are basically alike and given the chance, respond to worthwhile opportunities.

Maria came to Twin Falls from a community slightly more populated than ours. She arrived in August, 1955, and will leave shortly after graduation with the class of 1960 the last of May. She, with many other students like herself, will tour the nation by bus, will meet President Johnston in Washington, D. C., and will then jet back to her home town.

Ironically, she will leave the United States in the summer and arrive in Argentina in the start of winter. She will be back in school again in about two weeks after getting there. The seasons are reversed. When it is summer up here it is winter down there—and practically everyone knows that youngsters go to school in wintertime. She will be graduated again a year later from her own school—two high school diplomas within the span of a year.

In Argentina her native tongue is Spanish but a foreign language is a required subject. Maria had studied English for six years before she came north to Twin Falls. She practiced English with her friends, by means of private lessons and by the regular schooling. She speaks with an accent but understanding is no problem. Her school at home is a private Catholic school operated by the Order of Misericordia Nuns. Things are somewhat different in her home school than she finds them here. For instance, all grades are in the one building in Rafaela Santa Fe. On the high school level, basketball and football (rugby) are played but competition between different schools comes in each town only once a year. Otherwise competition is on an intra-mural order.

In Twin Falls Maria enjoys the closeness of competition among the athletes of the various schools. She is able to do anything she can—she really has the opportunity to do at her home school.

She can yell in Twin Falls. The reason is that there is a Pep Club here. In Argentina there are no Pep Clubs. She is a good student and is associating herself in many extra curricular programs at the Twin Falls High School. Studywise, she takes history, French, typing, U. S. Government and world problems, U. S. History and English. She is a Pep Club member, belongs to the Girl's League and the French Club, the Future Teachers organization and the T.V. She is one of the family at the John Breckenridge home north of Twin Falls and just off Blue Lake Boulevard North to the west. From the living room of the home she can look out over the Snake River Canyon area and on to the white-capped Sawtooth Range in the distance.

She has gone to the Breckenridge summer home in the Sawtooth Valley area over Galea Summit, she has gone to Boise for university and high school level athletic contests, she has gone to school dances, she has had dates, she admits that she eats too many sweets (here, but not back in Argentina) and she likes her North American friends, teachers and especially her "mother and father" for the school year. Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge.

Maria is the daughter of Dr. Jose Felipe Gutierrez, a dentist. Her mother is dead but close relatives bridged the gap and raising of the Gutierrez children became a family affair. Continued on Page 22

Devotion of Parents for Child Pays Off in Correcting Defects

Dennis Weigt can point his toes straight ahead. Actually, it doesn't sound like much of an accomplishment, but it is. It was not so long ago that both feet turned in. Both Mr. and 4-year-old youngster was a victim of what is commonly known as pigeon-toes.

When first noticed, the left foot was turned in. A short time later, the right foot also started to turn in. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Weigt, the parents, were concerned.

The youngster was taken to the family pediatrician and use of corrective shoes was recommended. When the shoes were on, the feet were straight—when they were off, the feet turned in. The shoes were first used on June 18, 1955. Apparently, the feet were being held straight when the shoes were on, but now his left leg and both knees were turning in.

Five and one-half months had passed when, quite by accident, Mrs. Weigt met Mrs. Merle Stoddard, who heads the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center. The discussion centered on the condition of the youngster and Mrs. Stoddard and the mother decided to ask the pediatrician if corrective exercises designed by Mrs. Stoddard would help.

Fully cooperative, the local doctor immediately recommended the program be followed.

ed and said he would follow results with much interest.

"After six months in corrective shoes both my husband and I were somewhat skeptical that the exercises recommended by Mrs. Stoddard would really work, but we decided to give it a try," Mrs. Weigt said. The mother points out that after just two weeks of the special exercises the improvement was very noticeable.

"After three weeks there was no doubt but that we were on the right track," she said. She points out that now his legs, his knees and his right foot are perfectly straight. His left foot still toes in slightly, but this, it is noted, is not unusual for a child that age.

The mother, in an interview with the Times-News, pointed out that she and her husband worked very diligently with

TODAY DENNIS WEIGT is able to point his feet straight ahead as noted in this photograph of the 4-year-old youngster taken this week. Actually he is too young to realize the importance of the improvement in his case and the smile is just a natural one with him. (Times-News photo)

NOT TOO MANY MONTHS ago Dennis Weigt stood like this. His left foot turned in at an alarming degree. About two weeks after his parents first noticed the left foot, the right one also began to turn in, until the youngster was what is commonly called pigeon-toed. (Times-News photo)

METHODS OF DOING housework in this country are all a part of the training which a visiting exchange student is exposed to during her stay in Twin Falls. Maria Gutierrez, left, 17-year-old Argentina resident, plucks in on a bit of dishwashing as her "host sister," Susan Breckenridge looks on.

Maria Gutierrez will be graduated from Twin Falls High School the last of May with Miss Breckenridge's class. On returning to Argentina she will complete another year there before high school graduation. She will tour the United States before flying back to Argentina. (Times-News photo)

MRS. JOHN H. BRECKENRIDGE, at whose home Maria Gutierrez is living during her school year in Twin Falls, talks over daily happenings with the Argentina visitor. The Breckenridge home is north of Twin Falls. Miss Gutierrez receives the same consideration afforded any other member of the family. The visitor completed six years of study of the English language before coming to the United States. Her native tongue is Spanish. (Times-News photo)

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHIELL

First letter this week contains a description. There are a great many varieties of this paper money, and they include different colors and signatures. It is very rare that this 50 cent note are not scarce, but many of them are very hard to find. In new condition, this note could be worth anywhere from $500 to $500,000, depending on the variety and signatures.

Answer: Your coin is from Panama. It is a half-Balboa which is a standard coinage in Panama. Official rate of exchange is somewhere around a dollar for the Balboa - yours would be about fifty cents. However - collector value of this coin, if it is uncirculated, would run about a dollar. (See illustration.)

From Mr. J. H. Rupert: "Will you please evaluate the following: (1) World's Columbian half dollar, 1893, uncirculated; (2) U.S. fractional currency, fifty-cent denomination, perfect for its age - issued during Civil War; (3) U.S. $5 Gold Coin, date 1915, perfect."

Answer: Yours is the first of the United States commemorative half dollars, issued to commemorate the Columbian Exposition held in Chicago in 1893 and 1894.

The coins were issued with both dates. This coin has for a long time been very undervalued as the issue was large and there was no demand for it. The 1892 type ran $50,000, the 1893, 1,500,405. Of late years the coin has risen in price - the 1892 now selling at about $7, uncirculated, the 1893 at about $4.

It is impossible for me to answer your question as to the fractional currency, or without either seeing it, or with a photograph.

HALF-BALBOA COIN from Panama would be worth about 50 cents, but perhaps $1 if in uncirculated condition. Exchange for the Balboa is somewhere in the neighborhood of $1. The half-Balboa and the Balboa is the standard coinage in Panama. (Times-News photo)

When administration changes the signature is changed on the paper money of our government.

Since we do not have design changes, this change of signature is designated by putting a suffix letter after the date. Thus the bills printed "1935" were actually released in 1935, and for some years thereafter until used up, then the date 1935-A, Julian-Morgan, the 1935-B, Julian-Morgan, 1935-C, Julian-Morgan, 1935-D, Clarke-Snyder, 1935-E, Clarke-Snyder, and then the 1937 with the motto on the reverse side.

Your 1935 was actually released in 1935 and continued until 1933 when Georgia Nease Clark was succeeded by Ivy Baker Priest as Treasurer of the United States, at which time the bill was dated 1935-E. In 1937 this series was numbered 1937, but there were also released some 1935F notes.

In 1961 the Series 1957-A, and 1955 were released. Since discontinuance of the silver certificates, there will be no more 1955 series notes. If you will send me a self addressed, stamped envelope, I will be glad to explain more fully, if this. (Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho.)

T. F. Library Receives New Adult Books

Several new adult books have been added to the Twin Falls Public Library shelves.

Included in the fiction is "The Lockwood Concert," by John O'Hara, a novel of a family covering four generations; "Tony," by Patrick Dennis, the life and times of a charming scoundrel, and "Rafe," by Weldon Hill, the story of a young boy.

"Aviation," by Anya Seton, a novel of the twentieth century; "The Red and the Green," by Iris Murdoch, a story of an Irish family in the early 1900's in Dublin, and "Give Me Liberty," by Noel B. Gerson, a novel of Patrick Henry.

New mystery stories out are "Billon Dollar Brain," by Len Deighton; "Double Image," by Helen MacInnes; "Terror Touches Me," by Stanton Forbes; "Post Mortem," by Harry Carmichael; and "Season to Be Deadly," by Richard Hardwick.

New non-fiction adult books are "The Life of Dylan Thomas," by Constantine FitzGibbon; a biography; "Once More From the Beginning," by Robert Merrill, a biography; "Dark Ghetto," by Kenneth B. Clark, di-lemmas of social power; "Sec-ond Sex," by Simone de Beauvoir; "Black Bitch and Honey-dew," by Ngalo Marsh, an autobiography; and "Scroll of Ap-ry," by Chaim A. Kaplan, the Warsaw Diary of Chaim A. Kaplan.

by the American Numismatic Association, falls between April 15 and April 23, 1966.

ODD LOOKING MUSICAL instruments, called "gutbuckets," were played in the street at Good Friday night during the annual meeting of the Idaho Oldtime Fiddlers association, Mrs. Allen Rice, Boise, right, used a mop handle on hers, while Mrs. Henry Ramsey, also Boise, used the neck of an old bass fiddle for her handle. A string is fastened into the middle of the tub and to the top of the handle. Tone is varied by the tension of the string. The women and their "gutbuckets" participated in a jam session in front of the Lincoln Inn. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Two FILER couples, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lierman and Mrs. Reuben Lierman, recently celebrated their wedding anniversary together as they have done every year for the last 28 years. This year marked the 30th anniversary for the Martin Liermans and the 29th for the Reuben Liermans. The couples never have missed a year in jointly celebrating the events except in 1951 when the Reuben Liermans spent a winter in Arizona. At that time the two couples did the next best thing and exchanged best wishes and congratulations by means of mail and telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lierman were married Feb. 2, 1936, in the Clover Lutheran Church. They have two children, a son, Galen Lierman, who farms near Filer, and a daughter, Mrs. Carlton Daniels, WENDELL. They have three grandsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lierman were married Feb. 2, 1937, in Omaha, Neb. They have a son, Donald Lierman, Filer, and three daughters, Mrs. Nea Allen and Karen Lierman, both Filer, and Janet Lierman, a student at Idaho State University. They have one grand daughter and one grandson.

Means of celebrating their special day varies. It may take the form of a dinner party at one of their homes or quite often mutual friends have entertained the two couples. Some years they make reservations at a hotel for dinner.

The 1955 celebration was delayed for a few weeks after Mrs. Reuben Lierman received a broken ankle in a fall and the dinner date was postponed until several weeks later when she felt she had achieved some skill on crutches.

Myrtle E. Toole, a resident of WENDELL area since childhood and district service in the Wendell Idaho Power Co. office, is observing the 40th anniversary of her employment by the utility.

Miss Toole, who has spent more years with the company than any other active woman employee, was honored at a dinner and received a distinctive award recognizing her long service, from Earl Skidmore, district manager.

"During her 40 years in the Wendell office, Miss Toole has rendered valuable service to our customers in the community and reflected great credit on the company," Skidmore said.

Miss Toole was born in Payette. When she was 6 years old she moved with her family to a farm near Wendell soon after the turn of the century.

In 1923, the family moved into Wendell and three years later Miss Toole began work for Idaho Power as cashier clerk.

Reflecting on her years in Wendell, Miss Toole points out the similarity between a small town and a large family. "You know, it may be forgotten," she said, "and you become attached to them."

This attachment was evident about 10 years ago when she became ill. She recalls that many of the Wendell office customers sent her "get well" greetings.

Her affection for the Idaho Power Co. is just as strong as her feeling for the customers of the company, with whom she comes in contact daily, both as an employee and as a resident.

Miss Toole lives at 240 2nd St., W. in Wendell. She has been an officer in the Business and Professional Women's club, is a member of Idaho Red-bell lodge No. 36 and has served in offices and is a Past Noble Grand.

There's a double-header - or perhaps one might better say a double-tagger - going on these days at the J. H. Callen ranch, south of JEROME.

Two of the five Callen children, Sandra, 11, and Tim, 9, received identical spiral fractures of the left lower, this time the "Clayton Lutheran Church." result of "bad breaks" the ski slopes of Soldier Mountain and both happened at about 3:15 p.m.

Sandra, a fifth grade student at Appleton School, tumbled first on Jan. 15, and Tim, who is a third grader, "came tumbling after" on Jan. 23. Tim, a hardy soul, objected so strenuously to a shot-to-escape his pain, that the doctor forebore to force the "issue," but prescribed some pain-killer pills just in case. Just as well, too. Tim would have no more of the pills, but his mother, Pat, who had twisted her knee just before Tim's spill, took two. Both youngsters are back in school, using crutches.

Both will be in casts for six to eight weeks. The rest of the family is planning to head for Soldier again next week-end. They figure the off-weekends are safe.

For the guy whod rather drive than fly: Chevelle SS396

Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher. Convertible also available.

POTENT THE CHEVROLET WAY

It also features a floor-mounted shift-lever fully synchronized 3-speed transmission and a choice of rear axle ratios.

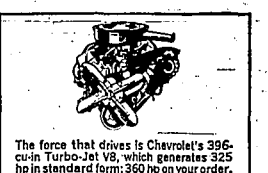

This is about a very special Chevelle. A Chevelle that wears a bulging hood, a black grille and red stripe nylon tires on wide-base wheels.

-Start it up and you've tuned in on 396 cubic inches of Turbo-Jet V8.

Get it moving and suddenly you're a driver again, with things to do. With gears to shift. A clutch to work. Self-adjusting brakes to slow you down. Even a set of gauges to read, if you specify them.

Now take a curve and discover a smooth-riding car that isn't a mouse in the corners. This Chevelle utterly delights in crooked roads.

This, you see, is a Chevelle SS 396. A Chevelle, most assuredly. But what a Chevelle!

The force that drives is Chevrolet's 396-cu-in Turbo-Jet V8, which generates 325 hp in standard form; 360 hp on your order.

Eight features now standard for your added safety: Seat belts front and rear • Padded instrument panel • Padded sun visors • Shatter-resistant inside mirror • Two-speed electric wipers for better visibility in a downpour • Windshield wipers • Back-up light.

Valley Band, Chorus Set Tuesday Show

EDEN-HEZELTON—The Valley High School band and chorus and sixth and seventh grade band will present a winter concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The high school band will open the program with "Northport March" by Akers; a selection from the Baroque period, "Prelude and Fugue," Bach; romantic tone poem, "King John," Holman; sampling of contemporary music, "Grecian Theme and Dance," Cavacas, and highlights from the popular musical "Mary Poppins."
 "The high school chorus will sing "Today," "Advance to the Rear," "Balladino," contemporary carol by Benjamin Britten, "Aria Maria," sacred Renaissance music by Arcadelt; "Don't Rain on My Parade," from the Broadway musical "Funny Girl"; two mountain folk ballads, "He's Gone Away," and "Barbara Allen," "Deep Purple" and "My Love."

There will be no admission charge but donations to the music fund will be appreciated.

Your Spine and Your Health

By Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr

It is important to chew your food well to break it up into small particles and saturate it with saliva. Saliva contains a digestive fluid that aids in the digestion of all starchy food. Because most starchy foods are soft when eaten, they are often swallowed without enough chewing.

Chewing your eating habits will eliminate many causes of fatty degeneration, but if nerve irritations as due to vertebrae subluxations are causing your indigestion, you will greatly benefit from chiropractic adjustment.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest, will explain and illustrate the practice of scientific chiropractic, written by Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr, whose office is located at 717 Main Ave., W., Twin Falls, Tel. 733-5232. —Adv.

visitation, cannot return to this country for at least two years—even for just a visit.
 This last specification is agreed to in order that the youngster will not be swayed by conflicting emotions into thinking that he or she wants to live in the United States rather than back home. The two year period will provide for more sober reflection.
 Meanwhile Marta enjoys every minute of her stay in Twin Falls. It is an adventure relatively few youngsters have the opportunity to partake of.
 She is, in fact, Marta Gutierrez of Raguel Santa Fe, Argentina. In her mind's eye she is Marta Brockmeier of Twin Falls, Idaho, and a high school senior who will graduate next May.

American Soldiers Search For "Charlie" In Viet Nam

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Where's Charlie?" This question has been nagging thousands of sweating, dust-stained American soldiers for weeks as they scoured the jungles along the frontiers of neighboring Cambodia.

They found plenty of signs that Charlie — nickname for the Communist enemy — had been there, sometimes only hours before. Supplies of rice, salt, ammunition and medicines had been captured or destroyed. But several wide-ranging operations involving two infantry brigades and supporting artillery, scores of helicopters and millions of dollars worth of materiel, succeeded in killing only a handful of Communist soldiers and capturing seven, three of whom were trying anxiously to switch sides.

Local Viet Cong and Communist North Vietnamese regulars held undisputed title to wide areas in the mountains in Viet Nam's central highlands until the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division invaded the Ia Drang Valley last fall. At that time the North Vietnamese slugged it out to a tie.

The North Vietnamese commanders' reluctance to tangle with the 1st Cavalry recently has provoked speculation that the Hanoi regime was avoiding battle deliberately as a prelude to peace talks.

Senior American officers on the spot think this most unlikely. They say the North Vietnamese are merely obeying the first rule of warring — don't be a hero but make the other man expensive lesson about American firepower and mobility. The 1st Cavalry files its victory. At present, the American off-zone, Chinook-helicopter landers believe, the cards are only minutes after the first stacked-against the Communist wave of assault troops, secure in any pitched battle with the landing zone. Moving the 1st Cavalry in the central highlands, same guns through jungle would lands. The Ia Drang campaign take days, possibly weeks. During the Ia Drang battle, the 1st Cavalry's batteries of big guns moved 83 times by air, don't hold back on their praise only once on the ground. A shuttling service of Chinook's brought in 33,108 rounds of 105mm shells, fired with accuracy and effect during the four-week campaign. American dive bombers also tore holes in the North Vietnamese ranks. Footslogging veterans of the Ia Drang fighting don't hold back on their praise for the Air Force, which had jet pilots marching with the infantry to insure the closest possible coordination of air strikes, within 50 yards of American positions.

GAS AND PLANTS: Will gas used in cooking and heating harm house plants? One reader tells me her Christmas cactus lost all its buds, the leaves turned yellow, vines shriveled and died. Did gas cause this trouble as she claims?

I doubt it. If anything, the gas will actually help plant growth. Greenhouse operators are using burning gas to increase their vegetable and flower crops.

More than 98 per cent of all gas sold in the United States is natural gas. Years ago many used the manufactured gases which was harmful to plants, man and beast. These gases contained several highly poisonous materials, including carbon monoxide and hydrocyanic acid. Fortunately, the manufactured gas has been largely replaced by natural gas, which when burned in a home or a greenhouse, has a beneficial effect upon growth of plants.

When buds blast (turn brown and shrivel), leaves turn yellow, and buds drop, you can blame it on other factors such as dry air, soil, overwatering (poor drainage) or excess fertilizer, or even disease.

BLACK POPCORN: A reader asks if black popcorn is still available. He claims the quality of this is superior to present varieties. Black or purple popcorn was grown in home gardens when I was a boy. I know of no one who is currently offering seed of it for sale.

Although I never tasted it, I think you'll find it difficult to beat our modern popcorn varieties such as White Cloud, for ideal white hybrid popcorn for folks who live in early-frost areas. Or you can try Golden Pearl, an early yellow type with orange-yellow kernels, high in popping quality.

POINSETTIA AGAIN: What can be done with a poinsettia plant whose leaves have started to shrivel? Is the plant worth saving for another year's show? Yes, thousands of gardeners save their poinsettias over for another season. Keep the plant growing by watering it regularly (enough to keep it alive), then in spring cut it back to within four or five inches. You can take cuttings of the tops and make new plants from these. They make fine gifts for your friends next Christmas.

FREE: Due to popular request, I've made a new bulletin on care of three popular plants. It's full of good tips on growing and caring for these plants. If you'd like a free copy, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my helpful guide, How to Grow Poinsettias, Gardenias and Camellias Indoors. This guide will answer all your questions on these favorite house plants and you should have it for your Green Thumb library.

BIRD FEEDERS: Several readers wrote us help letters on keeping unwanted birds from feeders, but using wire screens or netting. One reader cautions that while the chicken wire idea is effective, it can also cause birds to lose an eye or two.

She writes: "If a bird gets pushed against one of the wires when it is cold, it's eye will stick to the frosty metal and perhaps be pulled out as the bird tries to get loose. It's like pushing one's tongue against cold metal and pulling it off."

This bird eye injuries can be prevented by using paraffin to coat the wire mesh or by paste waxing the wire."

APPLE TROUBLES: Home growers who use hand-picked apples are often disappointed when they get a big crop but find they develop brown spots.

Confident

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The two robbers who took about $50,000 from a grocery store Thursday didn't appear the least bit nervous, the grocer told police.

The grocer said two boys, whose ages he estimated at 10 and 15, worked as a team. The older boy held "something that looked like a gun" as the directed the younger boy to clean out the cash register.

as who owns dogs lose much of our own back yard near the house each winter, to the same cause. Your type of trouble is seasonal. During the growing season we don't seem to have much trouble, perhaps because the dogs range more widely in summer.

Lining won't help. Loosen up the brown spots and scatter some grass seed in the area. Sometimes the urine concentration may be so great as to prevent full and immediate sprouting of seed until rains and watering have diluted it. It'd be a good idea to soak each spot first with a garden hose before sowing grass seed.

Most of us feel that dogs are more important than grass and we have to live with the problem each year. Scatter seed in the affected areas and you'll be able to enjoy both dogs and grass.

R. E. of King Hill: "Last year we tried to grow cabbage and failed. Our plants were bought from a greenhouse. They grew for a while then turned yellow. When we pulled up a couple we noticed bunches on the stems and roots. What caused this?"

Your trouble is known as clubroot or clubfoot of cabbage. This is a slime mold which causes large, irregular swellings on roots. Discoloration, cauliflower-like broccolis, brussels sprouts and kohlrabi. Slime mold lives in soil and enters plant roots through "clubs" on roots. Disease also causes cauliflower-like broccolis, brussels sprouts and kohlrabi. Slime mold lives in soil and enters plant roots through "clubs" on roots. Disease also causes cauliflower-like broccolis, brussels sprouts and kohlrabi.

CONTROL: Grow seedlings in clean soil. Do not grow cabbage in soil where disease has occurred, and never set out plants that have swellings on roots. Rotate crops. Dig roots in a solution of Terracot, 1 ounce in a gallon of water, just before you set plants in the ground.

T. E. of Halesville: "It is almost impossible to work in the soil in our garden due to inorganic roots. They are in our rose bed, too. What can be done?"

These roots are from a nearby shade tree, possibly maple or elm. These send out millions of roots which rob your plants of moisture and nutrients.

CONTROL: Dig a ditch a few feet away from your rose and flower bed to chop off roots. Some gardeners build a concrete wall 3 feet deep to stop roots. There's no easy way out. Does

Big Problems Face Small Luxembourg Armed Force

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — With the smallest army in the Atlantic alliance, Luxembourg has one of the biggest problems: How to keep its army going at all. For decades Luxembourg had no military force. Many of its 300,000 citizens don't think one is needed now.

Marcel Fischbach, minister of the armed forces, believes otherwise. He has told Parliament: "There must be no gap in the front of freedom, and the value and importance of our contribution lies in preventing just that."

anyone have a good suggestion how to keep the army going? Please send your ideas along.

He also pointed out that the army gives valuable training to future police and customs officers.

"Besides," he noted, "the whole country benefits from the hand of the grand duke's guard, the only professional band we have."

Luxembourg illustrates in miniature many of the problems the whole Atlantic alliance faces. The army reached a peak strength of 5,000 in the '50s. Since then pressure for economy has brought it down to about 2,000. Similar pressures exist throughout the alliance.

Luxembourg artillery battalion of 200 men is integrated into the U.S. 8th Infantry Division with headquarters at Bad Kreuznach, West Germany. This is Luxembourg's contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). There is no difficulty about the integration now but the situation may change soon.

The foreseeable trouble will be mainly about money, but it may be complicated by the nuclear issue. The Luxembourg government is under pressure from the United States to buy some new artillery for its battalion, possibly the kind that can fire nuclear shells at American command.

Such a purchase would make a hole of several million dollars in the Luxembourg budget, which runs about $50 million a year. It is bound to set the nationalists asking questions.

ONE OF EIGHT miniature covered wagons, carved and assembled by Jerry Jones, Twin Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Jones, is drawn by two hand-carved black horses. This side of the wagon shows a miniature trunk, while the opposite side has two water kegs. Woodworking is a hobby with the local youth.

He reports that the animals are the hardest to complete and that the wagon is relatively easy to construct. Most of the carving on each item is done in one or two-hour stints. Knives and small tools are used. Jones has sold several completed articles. (Times-News photo)

Trapping, Bartering No Longer Way Of Life in West as Fur Prices Drop

BY JIM HUMPHIRD
Idaho Fish-Game Department
BOISE—A sorry footnote to the blazing deeds of mountain men who traded beaver and other valuable pelts for guns, horses, food staples, tobacco and Indian maidens in the wilderness that became Idaho and other states of the Intermountain West received scant attention in the news columns lately.

The primitive area is the largest in total stream miles. Yet only 3 per cent of it is subject to beaver damage to property for a shade less than half the average quotation over a 10-year base period. The slump went from $12.31 for the 1946-1949 to $15.55 years to $9 each last season. Trapper numbers and the catch of all furbearing animals except otter were far below the base decade average.

Thus the economy of this frontier region changed from trapping and bartering as a way of life, with hunting and fishing as vital necessities for food, to an unbelievably varied civilization in 150 years of less.

Rod and gun still are "must-haves" for outdoor sportsmen rather than survival. Trapping is far down the list of occupations, a part-time job at best, while hunting and fishing together are near the top.

Actually the market for beaver and most other fur pelts, broils and trapping no longer was very profitable in the early 1950's.

The caretaker trapper program, designed by the Idaho legislature in 1941 to meet beaver management requirements, began falling far short of the quota of beaver recommended for pelting because many of the trappers could not make ends meet and resigned.

When replacements were found, many of them did not stay on the job much more than one season.

To correct a bad situation, the State Legislature amended the beaver law in 1957 by authorizing the Idaho Fish and Game Commission to declare open trapping seasons on Castor Canadensis, North America's largest rodent with big, fast-growing teeth and the paddle-shaped tail.

Idaho beaver management is a thankless job. Of the state's 41,000 stream miles, about 17 per cent is vulnerable to considerable damage. Complaints from river counties contain the smallest total stream length but get the most beaver complaints.

The boy and the exercises they were not really hard to do, but they took time "and we gave Dennis all the time that was needed."

"Actually, we feel that time and effort to help a child is no reason that we will not work for others. If the parents adopt a positive attitude I know that it will work," she said.

High in her praise for the work being done in the center by Mrs. Stoddard and volunteers, Mrs. West declared that the improvement noted in Dennis' situation should prove beyond a doubt that the center can benefit the minor problems as well as the major ones.

The local center is associated with the Idaho Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., which, in turn, is an affiliate of the national society. It is located at 1327 Laurel Ave.

BURLEY—The blue pencil was presented to Mrs. Della Jones for an oral reading during the Burley Testmistress Club meeting in the conference room of the Idaho Bank and Trust.

Former Local Man Writes Book on Nation's Leaders

The latest book written by Jonathan Hughes, now an economics professor at Yale and who, as John Hughes, was graduated from the Twin Falls High School and later became a Rhodes scholar, is being acclaimed nationally.

His latest effort, one of several he has authored, is a lively story of eight U. S. business pioneers and is entitled "The Vital Few."

These two were Brigham Young and William Penn.

Few historians have seen either of these two as economic figures, but the former local resident contends that Penn was a representative of the many men who built the free political institutions within which American business operates, and Young as "surrogate" of those who opened the American frontier.

The other six selected by the author to arrive have his point are Eli Whitney and Thomas Edison, who represent the great inventors of the nation; Andrew Carnegie and Henry Ford, who represent the great entrepreneurs; and E. H. Harriman and J. P. Morgan, the financiers.

The 466-page book is published by Houghton Mifflin Co., and sells at $8.95. It can be ordered through bookstore outlets in Twin Falls.

Mrs. William Peters, address Ave. East, visited in the Twin Falls area just over a year ago and was featured in an article in the Wall Street Journal writer, the Times-News feature section.

Dell Holmes, Heyburn Businessmen, Credits Start to Faith of 2 Friends

HEYBURN — Dell Holmes, longtime Heyburn businessman, credits the faith of two old friends for getting him started. These two men respected his integrity to the extent that between them they provided him with $27,000 to help establish the Holmes Construction Co.

It seems that Holmes had been working for wages all his life and because his three sons were coming home from the military service soon and a fourth son was near high school graduation, he decided he should provide a means for them so they could each provide for themselves through a joint project.

World War II had ended, money was hard to come by and Holmes lacked sufficient funds.

Clifford Brown, the rural mail carrier, one day delivered the mail to Holmes instead of placing it in the mailbox.

"Dell, I understand you are planning to get started in business," Brown inquired. "You know, I have $15,000 sitting in the bank and you might as well use it."

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes discussed it and said they would accept the offer, providing Brown would let them pay him interest on the loan.

Brown was reluctant in charging his friends, but finally agreed to the arrangement.

Holmes started purchasing available equipment for road construction but soon realized that the money wasn't lasting him his need. He went to a local banker and asked for $12,000, needed for equipment to get him really started in the business.

The request was not granted and among the reasons was that implied by the banker's statement that "that's a lot of money to ask for."

The disheartened Holmes left the bank. The late Henry Manning, well known cattleman who had overheard the conversation, followed him outside.

"Dell, what in the world do you need $12,000 for?" the rancher inquired. Holmes explained his desire to get a construction business going for him and his sons. Manning listened, expressed approval and wrote him a personal check for the desired amount.

After 20 years the company is still near the top of its field and is currently in partnership with Fife Construction Co., with a project on the new interstate highway in Minidoka and Jerome counties.

Holmes was born Aug. 28, 1897 in Franklin county to the late Mr. and Mrs. Magna Holm. Children of the couple later added "es" to the last name.

Holmes began working with construction firms as a pump tender when he was 14 years old. In 1915 the family moved to Burley to the Starke Ferry district where his father farmed.

He was married to Clair Knudsen, Burley, March 9, 1920, and continued to work on road construction, both here and in the Twin Falls area.

In 1936 he started working for Heyburn-Paul Highway District, where he served 10 years as foreman.

The Holmes Construction Co. was established in 1946 with his sons, Harold Holmes, Ralph Holmes, Donald Holmes and

DELL HOLMES

Keth Holmes.

The J. S. Compton Construction Co., Oregon, had completed a job in this area and discarded a worn out caterpillar which they "willed" to Holmes. He repaired it and used it and a pickup truck on his first job.

About the only equipment available was army surplus and the family attended equipment sales at Utah and California getting sufficient equipment to get them started.

They found work that first summer at Shoshone and after that jobs came easier for them.

In 1949 they purchased some land from the late R. C. Stump and built an equipment shop and later a home. They have worked in Montana, Wyoming, Nevada and recently completed a three-year project at Nevada.

Most of the highways in the Mini-Cassia area have at one

Australian Money to Be Worth More

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The American visiting Australia will find Monday that his dollar isn't worth a dollar.

It's the day Australia changes from English-type money — pounds, shillings and pence — to the decimal system, using dollars and cents. And Australia will have the most valuable dollar in the world, equal to $1.12 in U.S. money.

Dollar, of course, is just the name of the unit chosen. Canada and Hong Kong are among other places that use the word, but their dollars are worth less than the U.S. variety.

The American tourist will get only about 80 Australian dollars for his $100 U.S., but he'll find even so that the dollar goes farther here in many directions. A man's haircut, for example, is 70 Australian cents.

Australia has been preparing two years for the changeover to simpler coinage, ever since the decision was to make the Australian pound now $2.24 — equal to two Australian dollars, and the shilling worth 10 cents.

For a year, they have stopped teaching primary school children the singing song, "12 pence one shilling, 20 shillings one pound," for the much simpler 100 cents to the dollar.

Banks were closed Thursday and Friday to give them four straight no-business days to change their records from the old system to the new.

From Feb. 14, all bank business will be done in dollars and cents, but other businesses can make the change any time in the next two years.

In those two years, but currency has been worked on by this company.

The family worked together until 1964 when Donald Holmes started business for himself with the "Maverick Construction Co."

The couple also has a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Karen) Moline, Burley, and 21 grandchildren.

Holmes has served two terms on the school board and is interested in community welfare.

Apparently no mistake was made by Brown and Manning with their judgment on Holmes' character and ability 20 years ago. Brown said if he had the funds and Holmes needed them again today, he wouldn't hesitate to do the same thing again.

The quality of his integrity not only got him business, but it is said to be the deciding factor which has kept him in business.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, February 13—Born today, you have many talents up to par, and should see to it and, provide you make the best use of them, your life can be one of brilliant success. To make the best use of those talents, however, may not be easy for they are highly diversified and may well stand in each other's way. You city and country in this regard will be to overcome your own desire to bring each of these talents to perfection, rather than to realize that some will have to be merely "helpers" to the others.

Although you have excellent business sense and know well the value of money and how to make a profit in your dealings, you are somewhat inclined to try to bring such dealings to fruition before their time. In so doing you of course run the risk of killing off your chances of success. Be on your guard against your own impatience. Then, and things should go well along these lines.

Possessed of a great deal of nervous and physical energy, you nevertheless do not have the stamina you might wish. You need long periods of rest.

encies will be in circulation although there will be a gradual withdrawal as the old notes and coins reach banks. But the currencies will be interchangeable with the fulfillment of social obligations. Talk contracts, over lunch, if possible.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—High prospects of success for the business plans put into action this morning. To wait too long may be to lose out completely.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Cooperate with others in a matter of buying or selling. Don't attempt to carry the burden of decisions by yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—The more business sense you display today the greater will be the benefits to you and yours.

Remember where your loyalties lie.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—The answer to your problem may well lie in high-speed progress. Make an effort to do more in less time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—A day for making every moment count. Keep on your toes and you should be able to snag the action that's in the air.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—A day vital to your relationships with others. Combine business and social affairs for best results.

Condominium Is Planned At Ketchum

KETCHUM—Plans for a 24-unit condominium on Knob Hill, just off Highway 21, are completed and construction work will begin in June.

Mrs. Gay Singleton said Thursday she and her son, Sandy, who will arrive from Hawaii this month, will let bids for the work in April or May.

The condominiums will be built on seven levels and will follow the contour of the hill. Units will range from studio to three-bedroom apartments and feature Roman baths and fireplaces. Construction will be of rock and wood. Included in landscaping are courtyards and guest parking spaces.

Mrs. Singleton said the condominium, which will be ready for occupancy next fall, is the first in the state with the exception of those built at Sun Valley.

Mrs. Singleton and her four sons operate condominiums in Hawaii. Her sons have come to Sun Valley to test the market and have acquired Ketchum property there, the lots on which the condominium will be built. Her first visit here was in October.

Mrs. Singleton said the aim of herself and sons is to furnish a home away from home for people with average incomes.
